

The Collingwood Ensemble

The audience listen with rapt attention

As a newcomer to this area, I am always amazed at the wonderful value for money available here for very high quality entertainment.

The Collingwood Ensemble playing in Culterham Hall, Mawbray is an extreme example of this, yet very few people appreciate what they are missing. For only £3 we had an evening of very high quality from professional musicians who normally play with the likes of the Northern Sinfonia.

The evening started with Mozart, followed by Dvorak and Bauerman before getting more light hearted with the likes of 'Making Whoopee' and a selection from Irving Berlin and more popular tunes like 'No Strings' and 'Alexanders Rag Time Band'.

We were also delighted by a suite of tunes played on the clarinet using the native music of Greece, Turkey, Albania and Rumania.

A truly wonderful evening thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Something Fishy

Annette Gibbons held a four week course on fish cookery during March.

These popular courses are always a sell-out.

Annette uses only locally caught and grown ingredients in her delicious dishes.

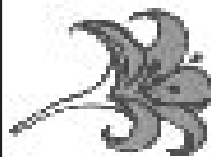

All those present were delighted by the sensory experience exciting their taste and smell buds. She showed them both basic as well as the intricate skills of fish preparation, leaving their appetites whetted for more.
