Can You Be A Positive Disruptor And Win £1,000

Called Positive Disruptors, the competition is open to young people living in Allerdale or Copeland and aged between 10 and 25 who want to "positively disrupt" their communities.

Based on a similar initiative run by the Hunter Foundation, the aim of the programme is to empower young people to 'positively disrupt' the status quo, to give them a platform to be heard and to break down the barriers for aspiring young entrepreneurs. It is looking to back young people who have ambition and the courage to take that ambition on.

Developed by Cumbria Community Foundation, Positive Disruptors is funded by Cumbrian property developer, Brain Scowcroft, with match funding from Sellafield Ltd as part of its Transforming West Cumbria programme, LLWR, Well Whitehaven, Morgan Sindall and Kaer.

Annalee Holliday, Senior Grants & Programmes Officer at Cumbria Community Foundation, said: "It is very encouraging to see more funding allocated to creating opportunities after what has been a very challenging time. Positive Disruptors will have an incredible impact on young people, empowering them to develop their ideas that will benefit their peers, their communities and young people of the future."

Ten successful entrants will each be awarded £1,000 to help them realise their ambition.

As well as receiving the grant, the Foundation has teamed up with the Centre for Leadership Performance to provide the young disruptors with six months of support, including a series of workshops, expert advice, mentoring and opportunities to shadow local entrepreneurs to help bring their idea to life.

Catherine Eve, Executive Director, at the Centre for Leadership Performance, said: "We are delighted to be working with Cumbria Community Foundation, the programme promotes self-belief, vision, efficacy, collaboration and resilience; a perfect development platform for young people to develop leadership skills, find their voice and promote ideas that will positively disrupt their community and lead to innovation and improvement."

Any potential positive disruptors now have an eight-week period to develop their ideas and apply by 29th October 2021. An advisory panel will meet to review all entries and winners will be announced in November.

For information on how to enter: <https://www.cumbriafoundation.org/transforming-west-cumbria/positive-disruptors/>

If you are interested in becoming a mentor to help and encourage these young people to prosper, complete an application form, available here, no later than 1st October 2021 or contact annalee@cumbriafoundation.org for more information.

Waver Wine Circle

Report by: Stuart Jones

On the 8th September we had our first "home" meeting since 12th March 2020, fourteen members were entertained by Chairman Bill Henderson's home made red wine selection. Winners of Bill's prize were Nick and Linda Wood. The event took place under strict social distancing with which all were happy despite distancing causing hearing problems for some!

During lockdown we've enjoyed outings for which draw prizes were provided by Stella, Janet, Jan and the Circle funds. Therefore it was agreed that the following would provide draw prizes for the next few months until the next AGM :-

October 2021	Anne
November.	Terry
December	All
January. 2022	Nick
February	Judith
March	Mary

Until further notice would you all keep continuing to keep supplying your own drinking vessels, nibbles and anything else to keep the viruses at bay.

The next two monthly meetings are, for October - Bill's home made White Wine evening and November - Call My Bluff evening..

The raffle prize, provided by the Circle, was won by Vice Chairman Graham.

The Christmas meal will take place on Thursday 9th December in the Village Hall at 7pm with food provided by Liz Brough (Tatie Pot or Lasagne plus pudding), please bring your own liquid refreshment, plates and cutlery.

It was great to see you all again and do continue to take extra care and stay safe and healthy.

What is a Quadruple Tautology?

Torpenhow Hill is a hill in Cumbria, England.

It's name consists of the Old English 'Tor', the Welsh 'Pen', and the Danish 'How' - all of which translate to modern English as 'Hill'.

Therefore, Torpenhow Hill would translate as hill-hill-hill hill and is thus twice as interesting as the Japanese Mount Fujiyama, which translates into English as Mount Mount.

Wikipedia says, "Torpenhow Hill is supposedly a hill near the village of Torpenhow in Cumbria, England that has acquired a name that is a quadruple tautology. According to an analysis by linguist Darryl Francis, there is no landform known as Torpenhow Hill there, either officially or locally, which would make the term an example of a ghost word."

So it is a quadruple tautology and also a ghost word!

Bill and Marilyn Aymes Charity Walk

Report by: Alan Rowntree

The 'Over the Hill Gang' invite everyone to join them on their annual charity walk on Saturday 9th October.

It is going from the Albion Inn, Silloth, leaving at 8am to Allonby by road or beach. Lunch can be obtained at Baywatch in Allonby, then the service bus back. Or if you wish to walk off lunch, back to Silloth!

Sponsor forms can be obtained at the RAFA club.

Because of Covid only six of us walked last year but we still managed to raise £500 for Eden Valley Hospice and the Air Ambulance, so will you take part this year?

Accessible Cycling at Watchtree

The cycling industry is enjoying a boom in enthusiasm recently as people dusted off their trusty old steeds for something to do during lockdown. At Watchtree, cycling has been high on the agenda since the launch of the Watchtree Wheelers project in 2009. The project has recently secured funding to replace and improve a large selection of their varied cycle fleet.

The Watchtree Wheelers specialise in providing adapted equipment for people with disabilities; their fleet boasts bikes of all imaginable shapes and sizes.

Project Leader Matt Wind recognised the need to increase and improve the equipment and used the downtime enforced by Covid 19 to define the project and appeal for charitable grants; most of our existing fleet have been part of the project since we launched in 2009, some of the bikes were second hand then. The popularity of the project and the uniqueness of our service means that all of those bikes have been really well used. We regularly service and maintain all of our bikes but we were undoubtedly due a refresh! We started identifying which bikes we would like to replace and looking at new cycle technology which might benefit our riders in 2019, but it wasn't until lockdown 2020 that we really had time to focus on the project and make it happen."

The Watchtree Wheelers have been awarded a total of £33,500 toward the project from Allerdale Sports Fund (£10,000), Reece Foundation (£5,000) and British Cycling (£18,500).

The money will be used to improve the projects range of companion cycles where 2 riders can pedal side by side, recumbent cycles and hand propelled trikes. Matt added;

"We are really grateful to our funders for the opportunity to make these improvements. The companion cycles are a new addition for us, they are great fun for any rider but are particularly useful for accompanying less able or mobile riders who require assistance or support while they ride. The recumbent cycles will replace our popular fleet of KMX

Watchtree
NATURE RESERVE

karts, these are trikes with very low centres of gravity making them ideal for any rider with balance or confidence issues. The new handcycles are much lighter and more adaptable for different sizes than our current models, these will allow a great range of users to benefit."

The team continue to work on future improvements and are currently hosting the Solway Cycle Challenge to raise funds for an additional wheelchair carrying bike called a Veloplus. The existing Veloplus in their fleet is very popular and demand often outweighs availability.

The Watchtree Wheelers Project is part of Watchtree Nature Reserve, visitors can hire cycles to explore the reserve which features a network of specially constructed trails weaving through meadows, wetlands and woodlands. The reserve also has a café and visitors centre as well as offering education and wellbeing services.

Ryan Dobson is manager of the reserve and added:

"Watchtree is a wonderful, unique place for all ages and abilities to enjoy. We pride ourselves on our accessibility and these upgrades to our Wheelers project will allow even more people to enjoy nature by bike! 2020 was a terrible year for many including us, but through focusing on what we can do and not what we can't, we have been able to make some huge improvements which help to secure our future."

For more information about Watchtree and to book cycle hire, please visit www.watchtree.co.uk

Appeal to Stay Safe on Rural Roads

Cumbria's Police and Crime Commissioner, Peter McCall, is urging motorists to drive safely on the county's rural roads. Although the roads are becoming quieter following the summer holidays, rural roads can still be dangerous if motorists do not drive safely to the highway code.

Speaking on the rural roads, PCC Peter McCall, said: "Cumbria is a rural county, and we have lots of roads that are single lanes, tight corners and many blind spots – many of which were not originally built to hold motorised vehicles. We have over 500 C roads in Cumbria, in comparison to only 31 A roads and 73 B roads, plus many unclassified roads, we can clearly see just how rural we really are. Many of us that live and grew up in Cumbria will be used to these roads but being comfortable can lead us to be negligent of the fact that, if we are not cautious and follow the speed limits, we could cause an accident. With the summer coming to an end and the dark nights becoming noticeably longer it is essential that we all remain vigilant when driving on rural roads.

We never know what is just around the corner, so I am urging all drivers to drive responsibly, stick to the speed limits and take your time – nothing is worth risking your life for. We know that speeding, use of mobile phones, not wearing a seatbelt and drink/drug driving are the biggest killers on the roads nationally however one of the biggest causes of accidents is not paying attention to the road.

It's far too easy for us to get distracted so please stay focused on our rural roads and please get home safely. If you know someone that routinely drives in a dangerous manner or is driving under the influence please call the Police on 101 or 999 in an emergency or call Crimestoppers to report anonymously on 0800 555 111."

Due to the very hard work and endeavours of the lodge members and Silloth trades people, Now at last the repairs are completed and to the delight of the membership the lodge has reopened.

Fantastic Sunflowers

Rhys Swatton and his amazing sunflowers

Report by: Pat McMitchell

We planted these sunflowers on the outside of our fence down the lane near Ryehills Road that cuts through to the beach.

Neighbours are bringing their grandchildren to be photographed underneath them and they have also been a talking point when they see them as they have such big cheery faces.

We moved here eighteen months ago and absolutely love the place, everyone is so friendly and helpful and the scenery and sunsets are stunning, it is like being on holiday all of the time.

We are so lucky to live in a beautiful place with fantastic sunsets and great neighbours, what more could anyone want.

Silloth Lifeboat on Special Duty

Above: on their way across the Solway
Below: safely arrived at Bowness-on-Solway

Report by: Julie Emary
Silloth Lifeboat Press Officer

On Sunday 22nd August Silloth RNLI Lifeboat was invited to accompany four skiffs across the Solway; two skiffs were from Annan, one from Stranraer and one from Bowness on Solway.

The skiffs also had their own safety boats who escorted them as they set off from Annan in Scotland to row across the Solway Firth to Bowness-on-Solway in England, following the exploits of a raid by the Scottish on the English in 1626, when they followed the same route and plundered the Bowness on Solway church bell.

The boat then was very light, the bell very heavy and a quantity of alcohol had been imbibed, resulting in the bell being lost at sea. It has never been found.

This event though, caused considerable insult to the people of Bowness on Solway and in return they went to Dornoch and Middlebie in Southern Scotland and stole their church bells. These bells still hang in Bowness on Solway's church today. The minister from Middlebie asks every year for their bell to be returned. The request is always politely declined.

Silloth RNLI Lifeboat saw the skiffs safely across the water where the boats disembarked and everyone was treated to a very pleasant and welcome lunch by the organisers and the good people of Bowness on Solway, before returning to Annan.

The weather was extremely kind on the day which made rowing across the Solway Firth a real pleasure, there was no wind, the sea state was flat calm and an excellent day was had by all involved.

The Hub Donates £400!

Silloth RNLI lifeboat crew would like to say a huge thank you to Silloth Hub for their generous donation of £400. The cheque was presented to them today by Becci Bridges from the Hub, which is on Eden Street in Silloth - the money will be put towards the cost of new waterproof jackets for all the crew.

Kayakers Event Raises £3,000!

Report by: Julie Emary
Silloth Lifeboat Press Officer

Silloth RNLI lifeboat was presented with the money raised by the Kayak event that took place on Friday 6th and Saturday 7th August. Over £3000 was donated, to be shared between Silloth RNLI lifeboat and Jigsaw, Eden Valley Hospice.

The presentation took place on Pooley Bridge bridge on Friday

3rd Sept in view of Ullswater, where the kayakers had originally planned to set off from, but due to lack of water in the River Eamont, had to start from Kirkby Thore on 6th August.

Silloth lifeboat out on exercise on Saturday 7th supported the kayakers when they reached the sea at Port Carlisle on their way to Silloth, where the event finished.

Silloth RNLI lifeboat would like to thank the members of the kayak team for their effort in raising such a commendable amount.

Lifeboat Searches for Missing Swimmer at Mawbray

Report by: Julie Emary
Silloth Lifeboat Press Officer

Silloth RNLI lifeboat was paged at 4:43pm on 7th September to reports of a missing person, possibly swimming between Mawbray and Beckfoot, who had not been seen for an hour.

The lifeboat had to launch from West Beach due to low water; they made excellent time and launched the lifeboat at 4:56pm and arrived on scene very quickly.

Maryport and Burgh Coastguard were also tasked.

The lifeboat carried out a shoreline search until Maryport Coastguard confirmed that they had the casualty safely in their vehicle.

The lifeboat was stood down at 5:10pm and returned to station. It was recovered from the West Beach and made ready for service again by 5:35pm

A Very Generous Gift!

Report by: Julie Emary
Silloth Lifeboat Press Officer

Silloth RNLI are extremely grateful to Pat Kane for the generous gift of £10,000, which she has donated to the charity.

Pat has been a long-standing supporter of the RNLI and has worked tirelessly, fundraising as well as serving in the Silloth RNLI shop, for many years.

The RNLI depends solely on donations from the public, along with people giving their time to volunteer and be part of the RNLI, in one of the many different roles that are open to them.

Daniel's Baking for Our Best!

At the end of August Daniel C Wood held a bake sale at Caldew Hall titled "Baking for our Best" with the aim to make money for the local care homes and medical practice.

Daniel wanted to put a focus on those locally who have stepped up to the mark to protect our most vulnerable people in a very challenging time. He felt we needed to give back to these masked heroes for doing a job Daniel knows he certainly couldn't do at the best of times. It's been rough for all of us, but especially for those on the front line. Silloth is in his blood and he's far from the first in his family to try and make a difference locally as anyone who knows them can attest. So Daniel took inspiration from them and did something he thought they would have done in his position.

On the day Daniel raised £130 through cake, tea and games that has now been sent out in the form of hampers to all the homes and the surgery for all their staff to enjoy. Daniel wants to thank everyone who helped him and to let you know that the sentiment was very well received at all five locations. Let's make charity something personal and make it part of who we are each day.

A 'Better Tomorrow' for Youth

David Beeby, High Sheriff of Cumbria, launched a new initiative. Better Tomorrow is a three-year programme encouraging people within Cumbria to become accredited in youth work and substantially increase the number of young people having access to support from youth workers to help them reach their full potential.

This unique initiative will provide accredited training to more than a hundred people as well as offer grants of up to £25,000 to community organisations setting up or providing new youth work opportunities for local people.

David said: "Many young people have had their lives turned upside down by the pandemic and are facing unprecedented challenges caused by interrupted education, uncertainty about the future and anxiety exacerbated by increases in poverty and family ill health. High-quality youth work has a crucial role to play helping many young people to achieve their full potential. Through participation in youth work, young people gain confidence and competence."

Ukuleles Are Back

A bride and groom and a ukulele band celebrated an escape from Covid restrictions at the weekend. They joined forces to raise £235 for the Great North Air Ambulance service after their lives had been put on hold by the virus.

Cockermouth Ukulele band had been unable to perform or even safely rehearse for over 18 months.

At the same time Phil Crookes and Emma Inkles had been waiting for infection levels to fall before they invited friends to a wedding at Low Hall, Cockermouth.

Band leader Terry Kirton said it was great to be performing live again. "We were approached in the early summer but were uncertain about accepting because we could only meet up virtually."

But rehearsals resumed when Bridgefoot Village Hall offered a new home to the band.

The wedding couple were delighted that their long wait was over and wedding guests added to the celebrations by donating the cash after the performance at the wedding reception.

"It was a happy day for everyone and the start of even better things to come," said Terry who has performances lined up at the Apple Day in Hutton in the Forest and in Cockermouth for the switching on of the Christmas Lights."

See "Cockermouth Ukuleles" facebook page for more info about the group.

The First Solway Cycling Event on 11-12th Sept

Mawbray Village Hall 70th Anniversary

Report by: Lynda Bailey

The Hall organised a grand Afternoon Tea on Saturday 21st August to celebrate the opening of the Hall that was built in 1951.

The event generated lots of interest in the community to the extent that 80 Afternoon Teas were booked requiring two sittings and some takeaways.

A large display of memorabilia dating back to pictures of the opening of the Hall were on display all of which created lots of interest and brought together lots of old friends. It was noted that no fewer than four past Chairmen were present.

For those present at the event four craft stalls had also been invited which generated a lot of interest.

A big thanks for all those attending, your support is much appreciated.

All the memorabilia is going to remain on display for the rest of the year, if you wish to come and browse and bring back memories please contact us through our website to arrange a time.

Silloth Carnival 2021 - MEGA Weekend - MEGA Success!

Report by: Owen Martin

For the first time in its history Silloth Carnival was held over three days 28th, 29th & 30th August. This decision was taken due to not many events being held over the past two years due to Covid-19.

The weekend was a great success with an estimated 15,000 visitors to Silloth over the three day weekend. Families enjoyed lots of free entertainment including BJ's Mobile Zoo, Cheeky Charlie kids entertainer, lots of singers, LJ Cheer local cheerleading group, Little Nippers Dog Display, Blue the Velociraptor from Pet Encounters Cumbria and much more.

As if that wasn't enough to keep the crowds entertained, we had even more including, funfair, a Magical Unicorn and Tinkerbell from When you Believe, Craft and food stalls, Face painting and glitter safely. I would like to thank the committee for all their hard work and dedication in making this happen. We will be back next year with another great event. Thank you to everyone who supported this event, without you it doesn't happen."

tattoos and much more.

We would like to thank all those who supported us again this year, without you these events would not happen! DA Harrison's, Allerdale Borough Council, Silloth Town Council, Fletcher's Amusements, Wilmot's Amusements, Anthony Eland, Bennett's Fishmongers, Silloth First Responders, Silloth Rotary Club and many more.

One local business owner said "OMG I had the busiest three days in over ten years. Was so crazy thank you very much for all your hard work you all did in putting it together and helping local businesses."

Owen Martin Carnival Committee Chairperson said "I believe we have had a very successful event. This is the first major event we have been able to put on since 2019, it was great to see everyone out and enjoying themselves

Your Buzzing Letters & Poems

Bargains

by Pauline Mole

*I only went in for a loaf of bread,
I only have myself to please and be fed.
Then I thought, I'll get some ham to put in it,
So I wandered along to where I could find it.
But on the way round, I spotted tomatoes, half price,
Thinks me, they'll go well with my ham slice.*

*I didn't have a basket, so to get one was my plan,
And then I saw an offer for a little cheese flan.
Oh that will come in handy for tonight's supper,
I will really enjoy it with my six o'clock cuppa.
Now, just to the side of those, was a rhubarb pie,
So, for my pudding, I would give one a try.*

*Further along was an offer I can NEVER refuse,
Even if only ONE of them I'll ever use, --
Swiss Rolls - Buy one, Get one free,
So I thought, one will do for tomorrow's tea,
The other I'll keep in case I get anybody,
It's about time for a visit from Mary and Jobby*

*I felt the weight of the basket on my arm,
So I made my way to the checkout before it did harm,
But while I was standing waiting in the long queue,
I noticed a sign, -- Three for the price of two.
Well I'm partial to a Mars Bar, so I put three on top,
And I thought, oh let me out of this blinking shop!*

*I felt really good about the bargains I had bought,
Anything that's an offer, I'll often get caught.
However, when I got home and sorted out my lot,
Guess what I remembered that I had forgot,
Yes, with all of my bargains, it ha gone out of my head,
That all I went in for, --- was only a loaf of bread!*

My Husband is a Problem
by Penny Stimson

*My husband is a problem
he forgets what he has to do, and when I send him to see some one he forgets it was to who.*

*He's always losing his glasses and car keys he can't find,
sometimes he drives me crazy
I think I'm going out of my mind.*

*I send him for some shopping
I even make him a list,
but he returns without most of it and Sayes the rest he missed.*

*But I'll still keep him
he makes a lovely cup of tea,
I only have to ask him
and he'll do anything for me.*

Periwinkle
by Sophia Lodhi

*Combing the beach, it caught my eye:
A shell, whose beauty made me sigh;
Pearly-pink, with no decay,
I scooped it up without delay.*

*To set it on my windowsill
May well have been against its will...
Recalling then, the fishwives' tale:
I put it to my ear, this shell...*

*Sure enough, I heard the call
Of sea and waves and thunderous roll...
Just then, I knew I would be wrong
To take it from its ocean home.*

*With much regret, I said goodbye,
And as I heard the fulmar's cry
I cast it far away from me:
Back into the sparkling sea.*

Dear Buzz,

*I was dismayed to hear an Allerdale representative on Look North saying that we were going ahead to look at having a GDF.
I have just looked at the following report:
RWM - INITIAL EVALUATION
REPORT: Allerdale
(workinginpartnership.org.uk)
I have copied below a section from page 12 of 30:
"Some of the clay-rich rocks in this area contain a series of evaporite units containing rock salt (halite) layers. Although only a single salt bed 6 metres thick was recorded in a deep borehole at Silloth in these rocks, it is possible that thicker salt layers may be present where they thicken and deepen off the coast to the south."
I am aware of the previous Council posts on Facebook in April 2019 but have not seen any recent comment or discussion in the press or social media so I am writing just to make sure the Council have this on their radar.*

John Watson

Dear Buzz,

*In response to last months edition it is quite true I complain a lot but the price I paid for my burial plot and my community charge I think that gives me the right to express my opinion.
All I am trying to do is draw attention to things that are wrong or need attention I would like to think the building could have a new lease of life and become fit for purpose.
It is quite true the old churchyard is the responsibility of Allerdale but I do not recall ever blaming either council. I think my words were (whoever is responsible should be ashamed).
How would you describe the building in the cemetery? And why was it allowed to get in such a bad state?
I wish you well in your project and hope it will be sorted by the time I pop my clogs, and what I have in my pockets has nothing to do with anyone bar myself.*

Yours Truly, C. Briggs

Banking scheme stops fraud worth £250,000

A scheme that sees banks, building societies and Post Offices work with police stopped fraud worth more than £250,000 in Cumbria in the first half of this year.

The Banking Protocol led to nearly 60 emergency calls being made in the county between January and July, protecting customers from losing an average of £5,710 to criminals.

This is a UK-wide scheme, launched by UK Finance, National Trading Standards and local police forces.

Branch staff are trained to spot the warning signs that suggest a customer may be falling victim to a scam, before alerting their local police force to intervene and investigate.

Real life national case studies from the first half of the year are included at the bottom of this release.

The Banking Protocol was rolled out by Cumbria Constabulary in August 2017.

Since March 2018, the scheme has been implemented by all 45 police forces across the UK.

It is often used to prevent impersonation scams, in which criminals imitate police or bank staff and convince people to visit their bank and withdraw or transfer large sums of money.

It is also used to prevent romance fraud, in which fraudsters use fake online dating profiles to trick victims into transferring money - and to catch rogue traders who demand cash for unnecessary work on properties.

Customers assisted by the scheme are offered ongoing support to help prevent them from falling victim to scams in the future, including referrals to social services, expert fraud prevention advice and additional checks on future transactions.

Detective Inspector Duncan Brooker, of Cumbria's economic crime unit, said: "Fraud is big business for criminals. 'It's an area of criminality that is notoriously difficult to prevent and detect, because there are just so many different types of scams in existence and because those who commit fraud can do so from anywhere in the world. The Banking Protocol plays a vital role in trying to prevent people from becoming victims of potential fraud'".

Cumbria's Police and Crime Commissioner, Peter McCall, said: "Online and phone scams are prevalent in today's society, where criminals no longer need to leave their home to pick a victim. Fraud can have a serious impact on a victim, not only financially but mentally and socially as well so it's great to see that branch staff are being trained to spot the signs and prevent crimes taking place. Education and prevention really is key to avoid becoming a victim of fraud and I would encourage everyone to look on the Get Safe Online website to learn how to protect themselves as best as possible. "I would also encourage anyone who has fallen for a scam to come forward and report it to the police and Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040."

Katy Worobec, managing director of economic crime, UK Finance, said: "Fraud has a devastating impact on victims so partnerships like the Banking Protocol are not only crucial in helping vulnerable people, but it also stops stolen money from going on to fund other illicit activities including drug smuggling, human-trafficking and terrorism. Criminals have continued to capitalise on the pandemic to commit fraud, callously targeting victims through impersonation, romance, courier and rogue trader scams."

To build on the success of the scheme, banks and building societies are continuing to work with local police forces on expanding the process to cover attempted bank transfers made by customers through telephone and online banking.

UK Finance is urging customers to follow the advice of the Take Five to Stop Fraud campaign, and remember a bank or the police will never ask you to transfer funds to another account or to withdraw cash to hand over to them for safe-keeping.

Case studies

Romance scam

A woman tried to send an online payment of £2,500 to the USA to a friend she had previously worked with in the UK. When the payment was blocked, she visited her local bank branch. She said she had been exchanging messages with this friend on a social media platform and that they had asked for the money to pay their hospital fees. Staff invoked the Banking Protocol, and the local police attended the branch. No money was lost to this scam.

Courier scam

A woman in her eighties received a telephone call from a man claiming to be from her bank. The man claimed there was an issue with the victim's account and in order to help her with this he needed her to withdraw money (£2,000) from her account. The victim was told to attend the bank to do so and call back when home for further instructions.

The victim attended the branch and staff confirmed to the victim that this man had not been in contact with them, and it was in fact a scam. The staff refused the withdrawal and invoked the Banking Protocol, alerting local police. Officers attended and offered fraud advice to the victim. The bank also put measures in place to further safeguard the victim from any future frauds.

Investment scam

A man in his nineties visited his local bank branch as an international payment he had attempted to make online had been stopped. He had been contacted by a company who wanted to sell shares that he held in America, saying he could get a return of £60,000 but had to send $7,000 dollars which he would get back. Bank branch staff invoked the Banking Protocol and the police visited him at home. No money was lost and the police are investigating this company further.

Rogue trader scam

A woman in her eighties had builders explaining that they had been working on her neighbour's roof and noticed that her roof also needed repairing. The victim offered to show the builders her property and they told the victim it was an urgent issue which needed to be fixed.

The builders quoted the work (£1,500) and told the victim that they needed to take the payment in cash only. The victim explained that she would need to attend the bank to withdraw this.

At her local bank, the victim explained to bank staff what the money was for which made staff concerned it was a scam. Bank staff invoked the Banking Protocol, alerting the local police force and refused the transaction.

Officers attended and were able to offer the victim advice and ensured no suspects were still on the scene. Officers were also able to enquire with neighbours and ensure they were supporting the victim in future. A fraud caseworker has offered her ongoing support.

August was a Bumper Month at Silloth Dock

Report & Photos by:

John Forrester

More coverage of shipping at Silloth can be found at www.cumbriashippphotos.weebly.com

Ship enthusiasts were blessed with plenty of action during August with a record number of arrivals. All ships were new to the port except for ZAPADNY which made one of her regular calls with molasses. Other cargos covered the full range of agricultural materials handled at the port. Most arrivals were during daylight hours, and even better, the sun shone for many. Two of the visiting ships are described below.

Dutch freighter BEAUMOTION provided one highlight arriving with a cargo of wheat from Rouen. Sailing from the French inland port involved an initial 75 miles along the twisting River Seine before heading west along the Channel to the Irish Sea. The ship then made its way to Silloth for entry on a midday tide, however, in gusty conditions the arrival didn't go to plan. The notoriously unpredictable currents at the port entrance caused the ship to drift off course towards the south beach. This resulted in some dramatic photos, but thankfully the ship was in safe hands and the situation recovered. Full reverse thrust was applied to bring the ship in line to enable a safe dock entry.

Passing into Marshall Dock, onlookers had a close-up view of the well-maintained ship. A full set of flags was on display including the Red Ensign, a gesture of courtesy when entering an English port, and the company flag of Dutch owners 'Vertom'. In addition, the 'Yellow Jack' was flying at the bow. This flag is rarely seen and indicates the ship to have a clean bill of health. To know that the ship was free from contagious disease was reassuring, and perhaps this practice should be more widely adopted in the current climate!

Another visitor, THOPAS, had a longer sailing to reach Silloth with its cargo of fertiliser from Poland. After five days at sea, fine weather greeted the ship as it approached Silloth. On this occasion, entry to the port proceeded without incident and the ship was soon brought alongside the unloading quay. The ship belongs to Cypriot company 'Unibaltic', and is their only dry cargo vessel amongst a fleet of tankers. This looked another well-maintained ship, however, with the Saltire flying at the bow, there seemed to be some confusion amongst the crew as to which side of the Solway they were.

August Shipping at the Port of Silloth

Report by: Capt Tim Riley, Harbour Master, Short Sea Pilot

August at the port was a busy month, with seven vessel calls, from various points of the compass.

We saw the return of French wheat again, due to an early crop in France being ready before any UK supplies have become available and also further German wheat, used at the Mill for flour to supply the various baking trades and home users.

Fertiliser was at a lower level than usual, however, topped up with the addition of Salt and Potash bringing our tonnages up to a good level. Our old faithful, Zapadny returned again with a part cargo of Molasses and is returning again in early September with a full load as well, just in time to start making the winter licks for sheep and cattle.

Our local Pilot, Ash, has been busy carrying out training as Pilot in the ports of Ayr and Troon, and also in the port of Barrow-in-Furness (all within the ABP umbrella), topping up his skills and providing a source for back-up in case of illness, holiday or higher demands on personnel within those ports.

After having good dry weather for the last few weeks, crops are growing well, we need a little rain and then look forward to a hot and sunny end to the Summer.

August

4th Zapadny from

Amsterdam with a cargo of Molasses then on to Zeebrugge.

8th Thopas from Gdansk with a cargo of AN Fertiliser then on to sea for orders.

16th Wilson Bremen from Sillamae with a cargo of Fertiliser then on to Jossingford.

17th Amadeus Amethyst from Wesel with a cargo of Salt then on to Coleraine.

28th RMS Twisteden from Hamburg with a cargo of Potash then on to Belfast.

29th Ruhrtal from Vierow with a cargo of Wheat then on to Kilroot.

Summer of Competition for Silloth's Tennis Youngsters

For the first time in a few years Silloth Tennis Club have held junior club competitions at different age levels.

With a vibrant coaching programme delivered by Rob Jefferson the club is enjoying something of a revival and with a few new committee members we are looking to renew our affiliation with the LTA and improve facilities too.

The competitions at under 8, 9, 10 and 12 level, were well attended and gave the children the chance to compete on their own patch and gain vital competitive experience too.

The Autumn/Winter programme has begun on the courts and we will be looking to head indoors in mid-October.

For information on coaching and what the club offers please contact David Wise on: 07742 547767.

Blencogo and District Produce Show 2021 Results

Report by: Judith Wood and Linda Wood

The Produce Show took place on Saturday 11th September with some changes having been made to keep people as distanced as possible. Fortunately the weather was kind and we managed to have some of our activities outside.

The judges pondered and deliberated over the offerings in front of them and the results were compiled. In the afternoon as the doors reopened the competitors returned to see how they had done. There was talk of how the weather had conspired against the gardeners and entries were definitely low but the hall looked lovely and there was a lot of talent on display. The outcomes there for all to see.

Tea and cakes were available and a sociable time was enjoyed while the results were tallied. The results were as follows:

Bromfield parish cup, for flowers

1. Terry Wright
