

Remembrance Sunday

Placing Cross at Sgt. F. Surbrigg's grave who was killed opposite the garden centre 60 years ago

After the service at Christ Church Silloth, An entourage proceeded to Causewayhead cemetery where 65 Commonwealth and Allied service men were buried (the remains of one American were repatriated on 21/11/1949), where a cross is placed on all veterans graves. The Cross of Sacrifice standing in the entrance to the Cemetery (Erected by the Commonwealth Graves Commission) standing 15ft (4.5m) high was erected in August 1950.

Silloth Christmas Lights Switch-On

Despite the atrocious weather, the Silloth Christmas Lights 'Switch On' was a most enjoyable evening.

Silloth's star of stage, screen and television Tim Barker was the official Switcher On, so there was a touch of drama to the occasion.

Apart from everyone who came on Friday, we have to thank especially for their interest and financial support Silloth Community Shop, Silloth on Solway Rotary Club, Silloth on Solway Ladies Inner Wheel, Markley Transport, Jazzy Jim the King of Karaoke, all the walkers and those who sponsored them to help raise money for our lights and to Carole Carr and the Community Bus for bringing them safely home.

Lawrence Marshall for being Master of Ceremonies and Bill Allan for photos, and Lights Setter-uppers Mick Berriman and Dean Owen, Rotary Club Members, Andrew Reynolds, David Catton, Fiona Pattinson and also Steven Henderson for his invaluable help.

We cannot compete against Maryport, who receive £17,000 Council assistance towards their lights, but we will try to make Silloth brighter every year. Happy New Year to you ALL.
