Causeway-head WI

Volunteers are needed for the MacMillan house to house collection in September.

Bank Mill Nursery near Mawbray has started to make a conservation area in the vicinity of the Nursery which will include a pond to encourage geese and ducks with a bird hide from which to watch them. Mr James hopes also to include a wild flower meadow and a natterjack toad pond. There will be walkways, to allow disability access. Mr James hopes that a visit can be arranged when work is completed.

Pat then introduced our speaker, Mrs Helen Harrison who brought a selection of her beautiful hand-made greeting cards to show us. Helen became interested in making cards after flower arrangement classes and making a small arrangement on a card. Her business has taken off from this small beginning.

We watched Helen making a wedding card using pink silk flowers, roses and pearls. The cards are boxed and sold at Craft Fairs and Agricultural Shows. Members then had an opportunity to buy cards and gift labels which Helen also makes.

Our President then reported on the general meeting of the National Federation of WI which she attended at Sheffield on June 9th.

The first guest speaker George Alagiah who spoke about his involvement in the work of the Fair Trade Foundation as Patron of that organisation. There were two other guest speakers, Liz Forgan and Esther Rantzen. Liz Forgan spoke as Chair of the Heritage Lottery Fund about the various projects that have been funded. Esther Rantzen spoke about her work with ChildLine for which she has received an OBE. She ended her talk with her moral "We get better as we get older."

The competition for a flower was won by Ann Harrison and Frances Jackson's sweet peas came second. Margaret Peach and Cathie Baty won raffle prizes while Diane Shaw's piece of good advice won the competition. Mavis Walker and Jean Wilson took home the bags of groceries.

There is no meeting in August. We meet again on Sept 8th.
